COVERT FLYING TRIANGLES ARE NOT ALL UFO's

There is increasing speculation that the British Aerospace industry is undertaking a test flight programme on one or more types of Stealth aircraft from their base at Warton in Lancashire. We have received information from the Lancashire UFO Society, that a small black triangular craft approx. 30ft in length has been test flown along the Lancashire coast during the last 18 months and has been seen by a number of LUFOS members.

The excellent work carried out by the LUFOS organisation has established to their satisfaction, that a prototype unmanned aerial vehicle (UAV) is up and flying and has been designated 'HALO' (High Altitude Low Observable). This aircraft, together with its 'chase' plane, a Tornado, has been seen by numerous witnesses in recent weeks.

However, there is one claim made by LUFOS that is somewhat presumptuous and that is, their statement that all 'Flying Triangles' seen in Northern skies are of terrestrial origin. Conversely, as a responsible UFO study group, we do not agree with their statement that, 'Ufologists insist that all triangular craft are of ET origin'. We always consider the possibility that a man-made craft of delta wing design may be responsible. However since the passing of the Avro 707a, 707b, Boulton Paul 111, Fairey Delta 2 and various other delta wing aircraft, including the Avro Vulcan, there is a marked absence of alternative possibilities.

During a BBC Radio Derby broadcast on the 15th of January, your Editor was invited to respond to a number of claims made by Tim Matthews of the LUFOS group. Tim claimed that the 'HALO' craft was probably responsible for all Flying Triangle sightings, this included:

- (a) All Flying Triangle incidents that took place during the 'Belgian Wave' of 1989/90.
- (b) The UFO incident filmed by Daryl Spence over Mansfield on the 23/8/94, showing two helicopters intercepting a UFO. Tim Matthews commented that the 'HALO' controllers had apparently forgotten to inform military sources that they would be flying in that area!
- (c) The FT encounter with a British Airways airliner on the 6th January 1995 (British Aerospace employees informed Tim, that it was a 'HALO' craft that had temporarily gone out of control).
- (d) All Flying Triangles over Derby, including one that hovered over a traffic Island during the 1994/5 flap. (At this stage PRA member Jonathan Franklin rang in to dispute this fact, stating that his sighting of 16/9/96 could not be explained by a man-made craft).

Your Editor drew attention to the fact that FT craft are currently being observed in many countries around the world, particularly in the United States and that FT's are in no way confined to British air space. Mr Matthews responded by indicating that the Americans were flying similar craft. During the programme he went on to comment that 'Nick Pope knew nothing about UFO's' and that Tony Dodd (the senior Quest International investigator), had doubts over the recent Scottish landing case!

The assumption that all FT craft can be accounted for by covert 'HALO' operations, completely ignores the research that has been carried out on the subject of 'Flying Triangles', particularly the work of Victor J. Kean. Victor has amassed a large database on FT activity, logging over 1,900 incidents in 1995 and well over 1,000 so far for 1996. His plotting of FT tracks, shows that in general, they approach our shores from the North Sea, cross the country, taking particular interest in Nuclear Power Stations and then return back over the East coast. (a graph showing Victor's latest findings is included in this issue).

In recent weeks there have also been rumours that media information on 'Flying Triangles' has been restricted by means of a Government 'D Notice'. As we understand it, this is a censorship restriction on any news relating to 'Flying Triangle' craft. In view of the information received from the LUFOS group that a new secret triangular Stealth aircraft is being developed, the 'D Notice' could have a logical explanation. In no way connected with alien craft of a similar design.

The well-known author and researcher Timothy Good, recently told us that if a 'D Notice' was in operation concerning FT information, then as a journalist, he would have known about it (and he has not)!

If government 'sources' were intent on feeding dis-information to UFO researchers, with the intention of destabilising their research, then what better than to take advantage of the current triangular craft research. They could then circulate a story that the FT's were not alien craft but were really a secret British aircraft. Therefore there would be no need for anyone to waste their time investigating such reports, as the Flying Triangle craft could be logically explained!

Tim Matthews has produced a most interesting publication called 'Stealth, Lies and Videotapes'. I have not yet studied it in full, but I can vouch for the fact that the statement on page 1, para. 4. "and it is known that Professor (my italics) John Searl of D.I.S.C. flew saucer-shaped objects in Britain in the late 1960's/early 1970's using similar means of propulsion, the 'Searl Effect Generator' (5)" is a wild claim to make (the Editor having attended one of John Searl's demonstrations).

It does appear that Tim does hold extreme views about Ufologists. PRA members who attended a Rugeley, Staffordshire UFO meeting last year, were somewhat taken aback, when Tim Matthews announced that his house was being spied on by Ufologists, hiding in unmarked vans!

We acknowledge the excellent work that Tim is doing in the field of British Stealth aircraft, but his claim that they can probably account for all 'Flying Triangle' reports should be viewed with some circumspection.

THE 'FT' LANDING IN SCOTLAND: IS THERE A COVER UP?

In last month's OVNI we reported the alleged landing of a huge 'Flying Triangle' craft at Falklands Hill, in Fife, Scotland. We have heard from a number of sources that this incident has been widely reported by the news media in the USA and yet there appears to have been no mention of it by the British Press.

The story was covered in detail by the 'UFO Magazine', produced by Quest International and one of the best UFO publications now available. A synopsis of the up-dated story, which includes new information supplied by David Colman of the Scottish Unexplained Phenomena Research organisation, is produced below.

On the night of September 23rd 1996, after two initial sightings of a huge FT at low altitude, four witnesses returned to the scene to be met with the sight of a huge Flying Triangle which had landed on the ground. Two women witnesses accompanied by a boy and a girl, watched mesmerised as they saw multi coloured lights shooting from a pulsating blue glowing object. They then realised that there were small figures moving around the object. They were also able to identify a number of taller figures estimated to be seven feet tall. The smaller figures were seen to be carrying small boxes and tubular canisters around in the vicinity of some nearby trees. The taller figures appeared to be directing the smaller figures in their work. They appeared to be working in groups and were going in and out of the woods.

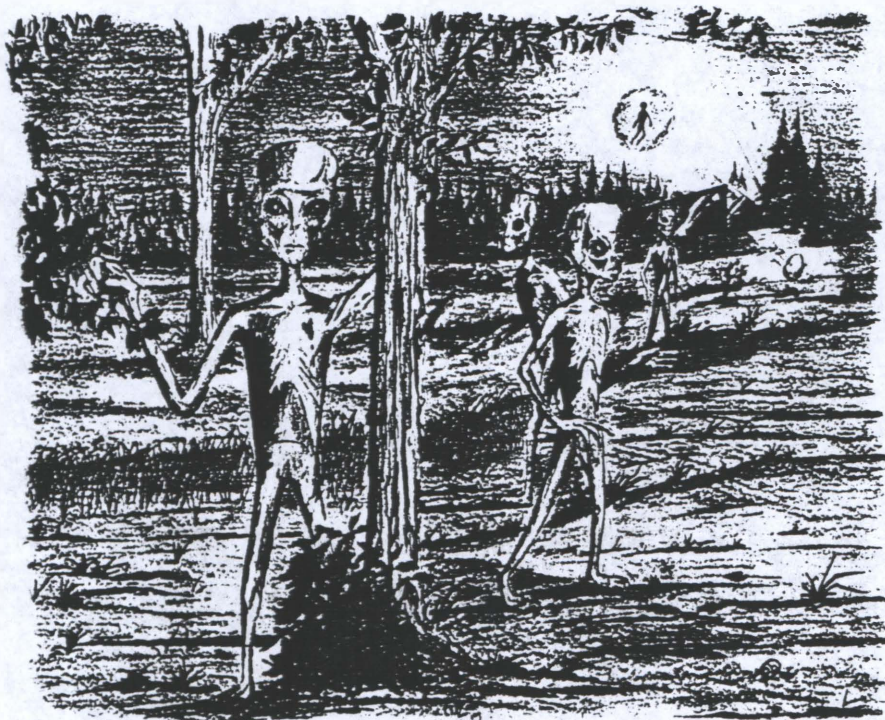

Shortly afterwards the witnesses were approached by what they described as cocoons, which contained one of the small beings. Within a few moments there were dozens of the cocoons hovering only a few feet away from them. The witnesses panicked and drove away from the scene quickly. When they arrived home, they realised that they had 'lost time'.

It was only later that the witnesses began to recollect what had happened to them. They remembered that the 'beings' had very big dark eyes and that their heads looked too big for their bodies. They also remembered that the 'FT' craft was triangular in shape and had a dome on top. It had two large white lights, which shone beams onto the ground.

Although the story has been extensively covered in the UFO Magazine (Jan/Feb. issue), one of the witnesses who spoke to David Colman, commented "I have only given you the tip of the iceberg"!

CHRISTMAS EVE TRIANGLE SIGHTING

Mr Tom Culleton, the Post Office driver who has already experienced a number of FT encounters, had another experience at 0115hrs on the 24th December last year.

Tom noticed that his radio was beginning to "kick up a din" as he drove off the A38, while on his usual run travelling from Derby to Burton-on-Trent. Tom's radio was crackling as it had done previously just before a Flying Triangle encounter.

After visiting the sorting office in Burton, Tom drove through the town on the next stage of his journey which would take him along the A50 to Swadlincote. He pulled up at a set of traffic lights near Falcon close and was set to cross the bridge and head up the hill out of the town. He remembers that he was about 200yds from the bottom of the hill and was stationary at the traffic lights.

It was then that Tom noticed a bright light approaching from the East (this is the same direction as his previous sighting of 3rd May 96). He could see the light to the right of the castle on the hill. Tom was soon able to make out a large black shape associated with the light, which had now become visible as three white lights on each corner of a large black FT. Tom noted that the white lights appeared to be rotating.

As he sat there watching, the large black FT banked over and silently flew back along its original approach course, heading towards the East until it was out of sight.

COULD THIS FT BE THE MYSTERIOUS 'HALO'?

We have just received a report from June James, who lives in Penparc in West Wales.

June has described how on the night of the 21st of November last year at 8.45pm, she heard a low rumbling noise approaching towards her house. It was a clear night and she was able to make out something like the shape of a 'Vulcan' bomber (delta), with a red, blue and white light visible.

"There was something following it, with a single white flashing light" (a Tornado chase plane?)

June estimated that the size of the FT was about the size of three 'Jumbo Jets' and flying very slowly towards Cardigan (SW).

We are awaiting further details, but we have meanwhile noted that Aberporth is in the close vicinity. It is understood that there is still a government test range operating in that area.

GLOWING GREEN FT SEEN NEAR BRADFORD, WEST YORKSHIRE

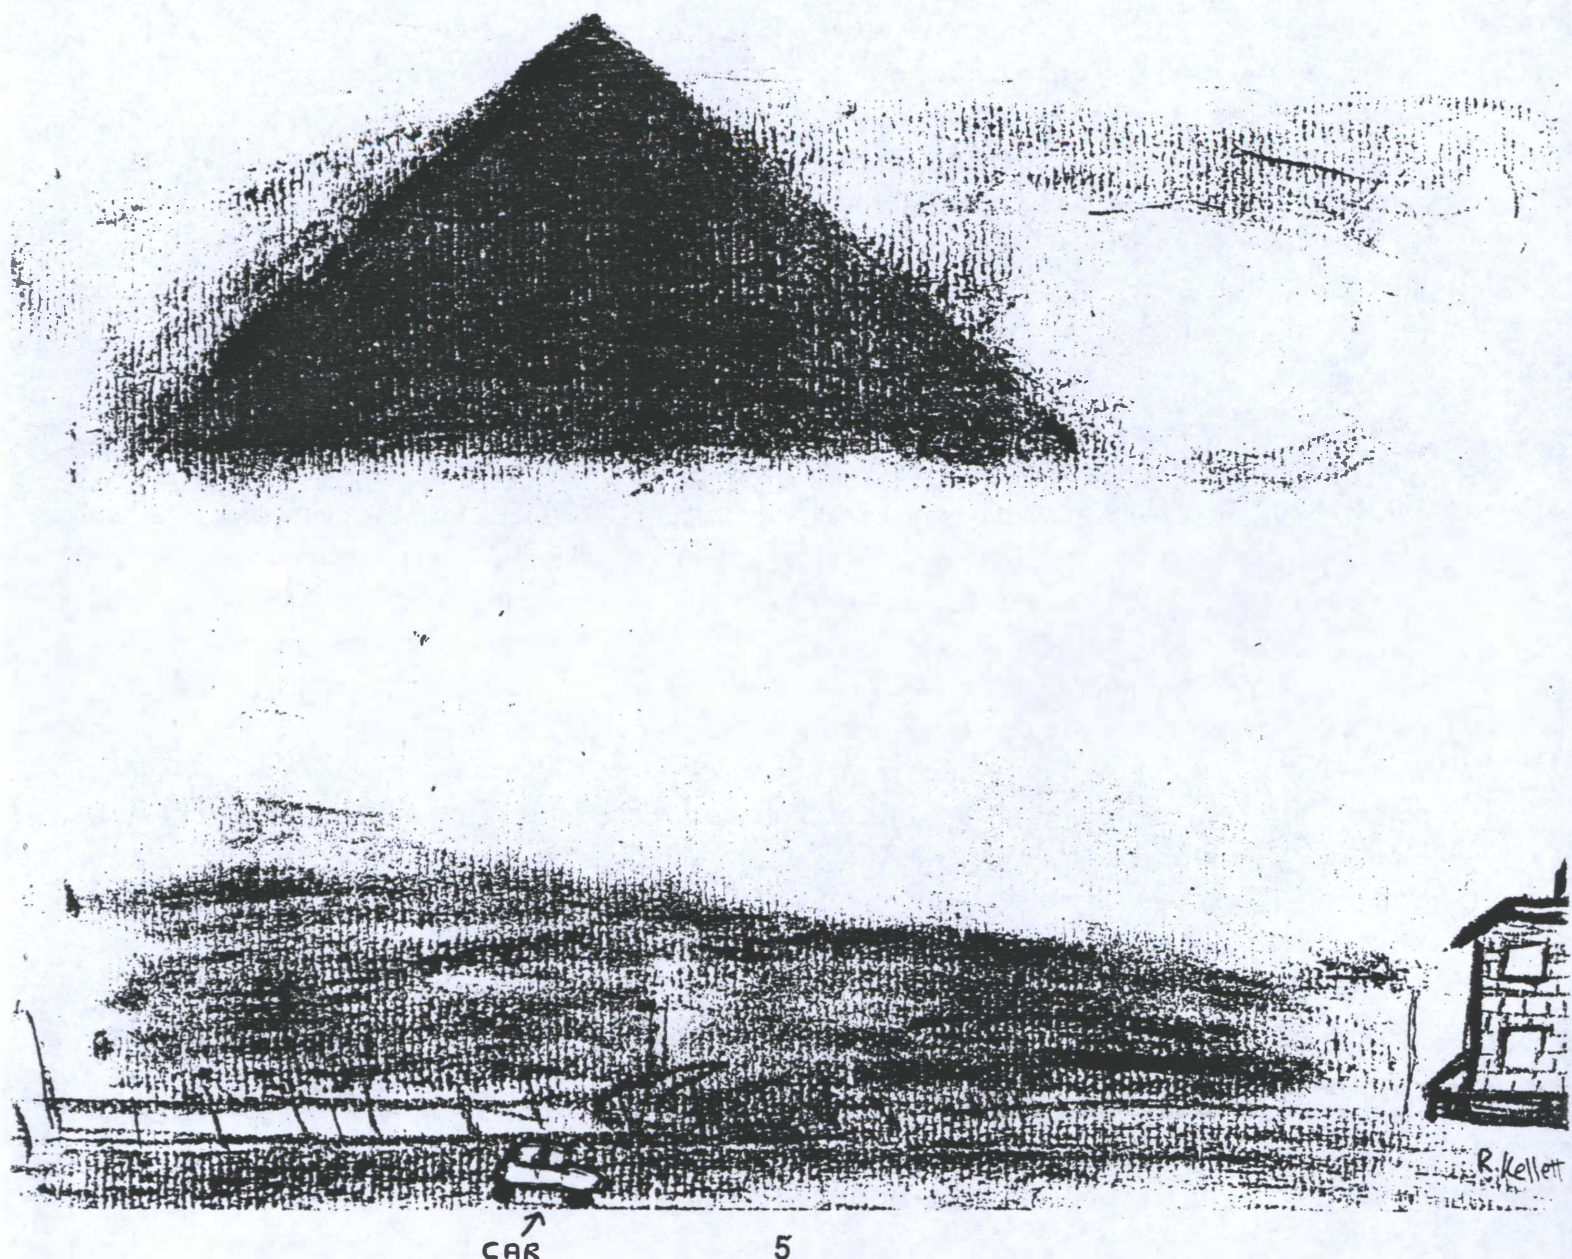

(Report: Courtesy of UFO Research Network)

The time was about 11pm on Sunday 6th August 1992, as Russell Kellett drove back from visiting a friend in the famous 'Jimmy's' hospital at Leeds. Russell had set off from the hospital in his car in his car at 10.30pm and as he approached the roundabout at the junction for Pudsey, his attention was attracted by a "glowing green light" in the sky.

"I thought it was a firework at first" commented Russell. "There was a Michael Jackson concert on in Rounhay Park and there were fireworks at the end of the concert." "Then as we were turning right on to the road (Leeds to Bradford), I realised that it was a glowing green object moving in a cloud."

"As it moved closer, I realised that it was a big Flying Triangle. To my amazement, it moved overhead very slowly, it seemed to glide." "I opened the car window to get a better view, but there were cars behind and I moved on." "I looked again to see where it had gone to, but I could not see it, the Flying Triangle had gone!"

The FT was described being very bright, glowing green, with no sound and very large ("It was so big, someone else must have seen it.").

Skywatch Diary

by Carole Baker

The sighting took place at approximately 5:50 p.m. on Friday, November 22nd, 1996. Weather conditions were cloudy and drizzling with the temperature around the sixty degree mark. The sighting took place over a power sub-station at the junction of Jernigan Road and JoJo Road, in north Pensacola. Adjacent to this site is a church, and this is where the witnesses observed from.

Two witness were driving to a local mall from their home in north-west Pensacola when one of them was paged. She knew there was a telephone she could use at her Church, and drove directly there to return the page. As the two witnesses drove up to the Church outbuilding where the telephone was, one of them noticed a large bright orange light over the power sub-station. "I was joking around saying it was a UFO!" the witness told me. The second witness the saw the light and they stopped the car. Still watching the light, one of the witnesses tried to use the telephone in the Church building. "It was all just static" the witness states "you could not get anything but static". Meanwhile, as one witness was trying to use the telephone, the other witness, carrying the pager decided to go toward the power sub-station to get a closer look at the light. "I just wanted to see what it was" she told me. "It was perfectly round and just hovering there, low above the power thing". As she walked toward the sub-station, the pager began acting strangely, vibrating and beeping at the same time (which it is not designed to do) and no numbers were showing up on it. The other witness saw what her friend was doing and became hysterical, calling the second witness back. Together again in the doorway of the Church building, the two witnesses watched at the central ball of light began to interact with the power sub-station. "There were sparks, like from a sparkler just raining down from this big orange ball of light to the sub-station. Then as we watched, two smaller balls of light, the same color, kind of rolled out from the big one and hung there next to it." One of the witnesses estimates that the large ball of light was about two inches across at arm's length and the other, smaller lights, were about half that size. The witnesses both went on to describe how they watched for over five minutes as the small balls of light would merge back with the larger ball and then separate from it again. This occurred three or four times. "When they went back in, the sparks started going up to the big ball instead of raining down" one witness stated. "You know there was something intelligent controlling the thing, because every time a car would come by and shine it's headlights, the whole thing would disappear, like someone flipped a switch, then when the car went by, it would switch back on again", the witness who approached the sub-station told me "As I got closer to it, it was just one big ball at that time, I could see it was very bright, but there was a darker ring around the outside of it. I could not see any structure." After watching this display for about two and one half to three minutes the two original witnesses were joined by a third. From the third witness' description, it would appear that by this time the UFO was moving away, beyond the sub-station. "It looked to me to be about a mile beyond the power plant thing" the third witness states. "I could see lights in a triangle shape". This witness described the size at arm's length as being about one inch across. "It looked to me like they were in a perfect triangle, all sides the same". After the three witnesses watched amazed for another approximately two and one half minutes, all three concur that "... it just went out and never came back on". Immediately after the final disappearance of the UFO, the pager returned to its normal functions and the telephone line became clear.

The UFO was not more than 80 yards away from all three witnesses. The one witness who ran toward the power sub-station, was at one point much closer than that, but just how close is not possible to determine. The witness cannot remember how close to the sub-station she got before her friend called her back. "We were excited. My friend was freaking out, so I ran back. I'm not sure how close I got to it" she told me.

ANOMALOUS OBJECT SPOTTED IN DEEP SPACE

On Thursday, November 14, 1996, at 6 p.m., Chuck Shramek, an amateur astronomer from Houston, Texas was observing the Comet Hale-Bopp in his backyard telescope when he spied an anomalous object seemingly near the comet.

Shramek described the object as "Saturn-shaped, self-luminous" and "four-and-a-half times larger than the Earth." He immediately photographed that area of space and obtained a clear image of Hale-Bopp with the highly-luminous UFO at a two o'clock position relative to the comet.

On Friday, November 15, Shramek appeared as a guest on the Art Bell Show and described the strange object he had seen. Art Bell's broadcast ignited an immediate debate among scientists.

Astronomer Terence C. Platt identified the object as a "nearby star, SAO141894, which is sufficiently bright to show diffraction images...Several spikes are often seen when imaging bright stars in a Newtonian reflector. SAO141894 is listed as magnitude 8.5 but it is of spectral type M and this gives it a very bright infrared excess."

Another astronomer, David W. Knisely, said the object might be "another star at that location--HD162115," which is a magnitude 9.9 star. "But," he added, "I think that this object may be a geostationary satellite which just happened to get a sun flash off a solar panel."

Anyone who wants a closer look at Shramek's mysterious object will be able to find Comet Hale Bopp at these coordinates on November 19:

Right Ascension	Declination	Elong.	Magnitude

SURREY UFO REPORT

Miss Karan Cheema is a student at Royal Holloway College, University of London, living in Athlone Hall at Egham, near Staines, Surrey.

At 9.25 p.m. on Thursday 21 November 1996 she looked out of her third floor and saw, about 200 feet away and 50 feet above the ground, a brightly lit object with "a yellow-white aura, a kind of glow" around it. Excited and intrigued by the phenomenon, she took out her camera and made a flash exposure. The glow around the object was immediately switched off, leaving only two lights visible. The object had previously shown four lights, some flashing, but it then continued its slow progress diagonally across her field of view at an estimated 20 m.p.h., until it eventually disappeared behind surrounding trees.

The episode lasted about six minutes and the object remained throughout totally silent. Though the witness had continued to operate her camera, none of the exposures were satisfactory when the film was developed.

Though she described the object as "a disc-like shape, almost typical of UFOs", its behaviour seems more characteristic of the Flying Triangles which have been frequently reported of late. The lights were either green or yellow/white in colour.

AN 'FT' REPORT FROM GLOUCESTER

The time was about 4pm on the 9th March 1996, when the witness was exercising, doing fitness training in the attic at their home in Barnwood, just outside the city centre. "Looking out of the window, I noticed something in the sky which struck me as very unusual." "I opened the window and looked at the object which was now passing the house." "The craft passed over silently."

"The object appeared too large for a satellite and a different shape for a hot air balloon." "Underneath the object were a glow of lights each lighting in quick succession, red, orange, yellow, green and blue." "As the object was moving very slowly, I doubted if it was nothing more than a balloon". "However I still couldn't account for the yellow, green and blue colours, which shone out."

"I ran downstairs and grabbed a pair of binoculars and called for my family to take a look too." "Looking through the binoculars, I noticed that the object was flattened in shape and the underside of the object appeared to have coloured cells, giving it the red, orange, blue, yellow and green lights, which dimmed and shone like a pulse of beating lights."

"I again shouted down the stairs for my family to observe it, however when I returned to the window it had gone."

THE OBJECT

As I have mentioned I was unsure if this is how a hot air balloon would look from the ground. However I have seen many hot air balloons before and have never noticed it like this particular object.

New Age Science

As a founder member of the New Age Science movement I am constantly asked what the difference is between orthodox science and New Age Science.

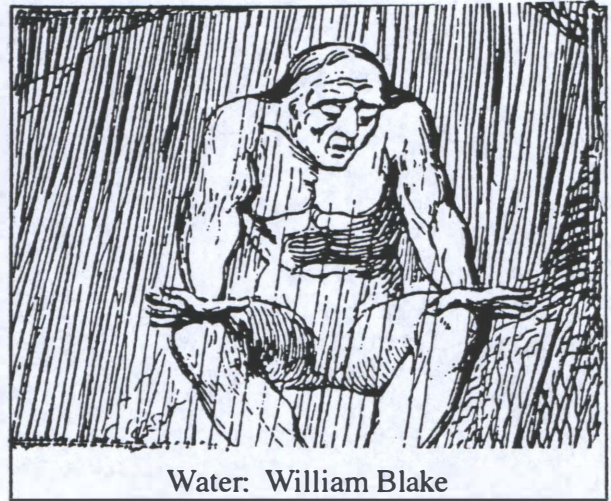

There are many kinds of truth. However, in our particular case, we are interested in only two kinds of truth which will serve to illustrate the differences between established science and New Age Science.

Traditional science denies the value of subjective experience. An encyclopaedia contains a large number of correct statements which are based on knowledge. However, we do not consult an encyclopaedia to discover the kind of truth by which we wish to live our lives.

Only the subjective method can reveal a truth which, in contrast to factual information, can become a personal experience and thereby have a deep influence upon what we do and believe. To discover the truth by which we wish to live our lives, we must start from personal experience and base our ideas on it, not vice versa. New Age Science never omits to emphasise that personal experience is of real value.

Because today's narrow orthodox science ignores subjectivity and has built its edifice upon statements of fact, it has alienated itself from millions of people who would otherwise be interested in science. Many people see science and, in particular scientists as evil, mad and soulless. Orthodox science preaches only one kind of truth and this will be its ultimate downfall.

Ancient religions are based solely on subjective experience but modern (western) religions search for a scientific basis to support their belief system. This also alienates their followers in the same way as science alienates its followers.

Science does not support the existence of a divine creator. Science tells us that we live in an empty, uncaring, unfeeling universe out of which we emerged only by chance. Modern science and religion share a common fallacy but come from the opposite ends of the same axis.

The increasing interest in Sci-Fi, alternative religions and esoteric belief systems stems from the fact that orthodox science and modern religion cannot offer sustenance or a thread of continuity for our mind/body/spirit existence. Techno-paganism is a natural consequence of the inability of science and religion to provide a truly spiritual direction for modern technological democracies.

New Age Science accepts factual information but does not deny the strength of subjective experience. Both are of value and can coexist with each other. Furthermore, by accepting such a dichotomy, science can be placed in a social and spiritual context and religion can become spiritual rather than secular.

Orthodox science's authoritarianism leads to a closed view of the world and if we allow this to continue, the very opposite of what science and religion are trying to achieve, occurs. Their ideology becomes worse than any evil they started out to combat. It starts quietly, undetected, and ends with the most brutal violent destruction of all that is human!

The Evening Sky

January 1997

Winter's starry splendour is now upon us and if you walk outdoors on a clear Moonless night, thousands of stars can be seen which will stir your spirit and leave you awe-struck with astonishment and wonder. The evening sky is a miraculous sight!

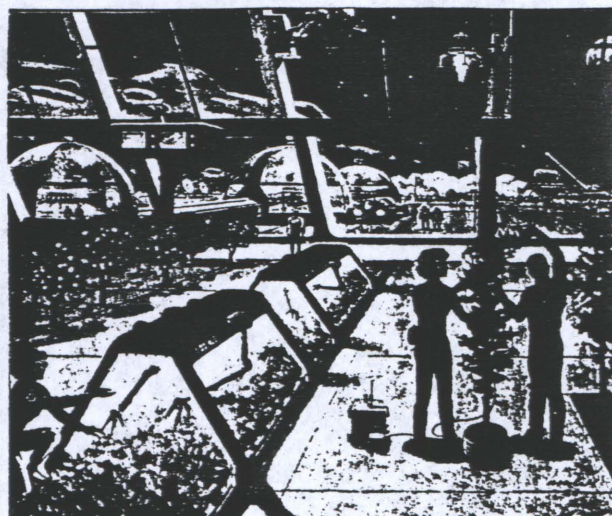

On January 1st 1997 the Earth is 92.4 million miles distance from the Sun. The Earth is closest to the Sun now, than it is for the whole year and we call this: perihelion. The Earth is 94.5 million miles distance from the Sun on July 4th 1997 (aphelion). Yet we experience cold and frost in January and heat and sunshine in July!

The common sense notions we hold about daily events are undermined in the real world. 900 million years ago, the length of a day on Earth was 18 hours and not 24 hours. The Moon orbited the Earth every 23 days and was 30,000 miles closer to the Earth.

Indeed, the Moon is still moving away from us at a rate of two inches per year. (The Moon's orbit is gaining angular momentum and thus expanding at the expense of the Earth's rotation.) In 900 million year's time, the length of one Earth day will be 30 hours. We cannot, therefore, look forward to a shorter working week in the future!

Do not complain about the weather on Earth. Mars experiences 800 miles an hour sand-storms covering an area the size of Europe.

The dark skies of winter provide excellent conditions for stargazing.

A Lunar Green-house will be one of many buildings in a bustling, 21st century 'Moon City'

Mars, appearing as a dim, red star, rises around midnight in the constellation of Virgo. Venus is low in the eastern sky, rising as the first glow of morning twilight shines. On January 12th, Mercury joins Venus.

Saturn is very bright, high in the southern sky as dusk falls. If you have a telescope or a good pair of binoculars Saturn's rings are just beginning to (appear) open. Saturn sets around midnight. All of the other planets are lost to the glare of the Sun this month.

The Quadrantid meteor shower peaks on January 3rd. Conditions for observing are good but the light from the waning Moon may affect early morning observation.

1996 was a very poor year for Sunspots. Sunspots have an eleven year cycle and we are currently at a minimum. In August and September 1996 not a single Sunspot was observed.

If you are looking at the sky in January, do wrap up warmly. I wear arctic winter clothing and you must do the same.

Enjoy Your Evening Sky!

TALE ENDERS

STOKESAY, SHROPSHIRE, a small village 'out in the sticks' is being visited by strange glowing lights at night, according to new residents John and Christine Roberts. The local 'bobby' has been informed but has not solved the problem to date.

EUGENE BAUER OF DOVER PLAINS N.Y. (USA), has recently sent us several pages of information on the early 'Hudson Valley' incidents and sightings of FT's and 'boomerangs' over New York State in 1983/85. These will be featured in next months OVNI.

EMUFORA (East Midlands UFO Research Association) has published its last magazine. Sadly the December issue was the 'Final Edition'. Tony and Carole James are too busy with other projects to keep the magazine going and no one else was willing to take over the task. Next EMUFORA meeting is 17th Feb. (Details: Tel 0115-927623).

MORE HALE-BOPP MYSTERIES SURFACE, according to the December issue of UFO Roundup. On Friday, November 29, 1996, Sky and Telescope News in Cambridge, Massachusetts, USA, revealed that the Comet Hale-Bopp was emitting "radio noise." According to S & T News, "in mid-November, radio observatories showed that each second the comet's nucleus was pumping out 30 tons of water into space and another 6 (tons) of carbon monoxide. That helps explain why the comet is already magnitude 4.5."

JEROME CLARK (USA), is working on a directory of UFO organisations to be released in late 1997 in a UFO Encyclopaedia series. This work is being undertaken in conjunction with the J.Allen Hynek Center For UFO Studies and the PRA will be listed.

THE 'OZ' FACTOR is a word coined by Jenny Randles to cover the strange silent and detached period experienced by witnesses while in the close proximity of a UFO. It has been considered that this effect might be explained by some kind of physiological shock brought on by the sight of a UFO, but a case recently reported to us has discounted this explanation.

Mr MS, a lorry driver, arrived quite early at the docks on South Humberside in February 1991. The driver parked his lorry at a weighbridge and went to see if anyone was about. "I was about 2/3 of the way across the yard when I became aware that something was behind me, it wasn't a noise, but complete silence." "I turned my head around and caught sight of a fast moving light in the sky, moving North. Within a second it stopped and then accelerated vertically out of sight." "At a rough guess I would say that it was about a 1/4 mile away and the size of a small van." .....Strange indeed.

NEXT MEETING

Will be at Allenton, British Legion in Derby, at 7.30pm on Thursday 23rd January.

A New Video from the USA

Cattle Mutilations, Black Helicopters, Secret Government Revelations and many other interesting items from California.

Meet in the Committee Room, Non-Members Welcome: £1.00 admission.
